Client Testimonial:

Site Stacker is a whole new category of software. Site Stacker is an awesome Content Management System, with an integrated Website Management System. So if you have two websites, or two hundred, this system will allow you to manage all of them in one place.

The Organization

Word of Life International is a large, multi-dimensional, missions organization based in Schroon Lake, NY. The divisions of their ministry include numerous Bible Institutes, both stateside and abroad; youth camps; youth rallies; family camps; church curriculum based clubs; radio ministry and more.

The Situation

In recent years Word of Life realized their technological approach to ministry was years behind modern standards. They had an urgent need to reinvent themselves, both on the web, and in their technology-based business practices. Their desire was to standardize multiple databases, replace numerous legacy systems and launch manageable (compliance based) web portals for every missionary on the field.

The Solution

After a lengthy investigation of products and services available on the market Word of Life selected WMtek as their vendor of choice. Along with WMtek came their powerful Site Stacker multi-site CMS and rapid application development (RAD) platform. Within the first year of a five-year initiative, WMtek has delivered a multi-site management tool that powers more than 300 missionary websites, a cradle-to-grave student management system for the Bible Institute, a Social Networking Bible Study system including paid account subscriptions and an amazing curriculum distribution system that has already been enthusiastically embraced by more than 75% of their customer base.
